

01/2022

Dear users and customers,

As part of the ongoing enhancement of our solutions and the associated efforts to offer cutting-edge products, outdated generations of our Gühring Tool Management Software (GTMS) must be discontinued on a regular basis. Likewise, the ever-increasing security requirements in the IT sector require corresponding measures. Technical support and the provision of updates must therefore be discontinued for the following versions of the GTMS by 31 May 2022:

- GTMS V4 (2006-2012)
- GTMS V5 (2013-2016)

As of 1 June 2022, no more security-related or functional updates will be offered for these software versions. The outdated software versions will remain functional in principle. However, adjustments that are required due to updates to operating systems or databases will no longer be supported, for example. If you wish to continue using the discontinued software version, this is at your own risk with regard to security and functionality.

In order to avoid possible malfunctions or risks, we are offering an upgrade to version 6.

Your sales representative will be happy to help at any time and will prepare an individual upgrade offer for you.
